

Cross- Curricular Links

Sport How the body works, functions of the body. Understanding the anatomy of the body and how it works (Including muscle functions) Working as a team to communicate and play games and participate in different activities. Developing healthy competition. Learning different sports from around the world.	RSHE Our RSHE long term plan links to significantly to the human and social curriculum area, as well as there being clear links frequently to the Fundamental British Values.	Catering Plan an event for other people for different purposes e.g. Christmas lunch/easter. Links to food around the world and cultures. Differences between the dietary requirements depending on the religious views of people e.g. halal. Visiting different sites all over the country/markets/towns. Promote a hospitality and tourism event in the provision, including promotional materials. Communicate with peers regarding the plans they are putting in place to work as a team for events that are being planned. The importance of hygiene and cleaning, health and safety in the kitchen.
Creative Media Students will learn how to stay safe online. Promote healthy peer to peer relationships and acceptance of other sex, religion and race. Contributing to being a member of the team, promoting character skills and qualities. Positive communication and patience will be developed by the students within the provision.	Human & Social  Crisp Vocational Provision Ltd Building futures for tomorrow	Construction Charity voluntary work and local gardens to help restore and maintain. Positive communication and respecting the environment and nature. Developing good links in the community and enhancing own communication skills for a given purpose. Construction jobs from around the world and the various ways tools/buildings are constructed. Christmas and Easter Projects.
Art Expressing self through different forms and medias, linking art interventions. Visits and trips to various venues throughout the academic year. Free expression to design, exploring emotion, identify and culture in the wider world. Students will research art from different cultures and creating art that reflects personal values. Organisation and planning skills, communicating with members of the public and those in the local community.	Extra Curricular Activities and Duke of Edinburgh Award	Functional Skills